Stealth Acoustics Expands In The Global Market Place

Premier Invisible, In-Wall, Speaker Company Reports Record International Interest.

Mount Vernon, WA – Stealth Acoustics is pleased to report that international sales are to exceed expectations in 2008 and is looking toward continued expansion in 2009. Stealth has established major points of distribution in Australia, the United Kingdom, Sweden, Canada, Dubai, and Singapore. “The desire for clean aesthetics in the modern home design knows no international borders. People want to see their beautiful homes... not speaker grills,” says Stealth vice president Steve Olszewski. Stealth Acoustics has perfected the design and manufacturing of completely invisible, full-range, and high powered in-wall speakers including subwoofers.

Brian Azzano has recently joined the Stealth Acoustics team as the new Dealer Accounts Manager. Brian is a very motivated and driven individual with background in sales, marketing, and construction. He is committed to bolstering the domestic dealer network as well as moving Stealth Acoustics forward into the global market place. Feel free to call on him for any questions or support involving the Stealth product line.

Stealth Acoustics is a division of Dimensional Communications, Inc., who for over 35 years has been a US based systems integrator with a passion for quality audio solutions. Starting as a retail stereo store, Dimensional formed its speaker manufacturing division in 1977. Today Stealth Acoustics represents a world-recognized speaker manufacturer with a continued passion for unique invisible speaker systems that not only sound great and provides installation simplicity, but also offers unprecedented levels of elegance to the home owner. Paul Hagman, president of Stealth Acoustics and chief technical architect of the Stealth speaker systems has always looked for different approaches outside of conventional wisdom.

Stealth Acoustic products are distributed world-wide by our directly franchised value added resellers, custom installers and distributors.
